Kiwanians to Present Kapers

All-Western Revue To Be Presented Two Nights

The seventh Annual Kiwanis Kapers will commence a two-night stand at the Junior High School Auditorium Tuesday at 8:15 p.m. Dress rehearsal was held yesterday.

The Kapers were founded to bolster finances for the many community projects sponsored by the Kiwanis Club.

This year's show will be centered around the Wild West and will include an all-western revue, Kan Kan girls, gamblers, square dances, and comedy.

The show has been written by Thomas J. Williams and Dr. Wade R. McGhee. Musical arrangements were written by Williams and Keith Riffle.

Besides the Tuesday night performance, a preview will be presented to Salem Senior School students today and a second public performance will be held Wednesday at 8:15 p.m. Tickets are obtainable at the Junior High box office.

Proceeds from previous shows have gone to the city swimming pool, underprivileged child program, pavilions in the park, Memorial Building repair and beautification and to several other worthy funds.

The shows began eight years ago and have been held annually ever since, except for a one-year lapse about four years ago. However, the public reaction was such that the Kiwanians quickly restored the Kapers as one of the city's annual events.

Most of the shows have been musicals as will the 1960 production.

Civil Rights Sessions Resume

Outlook Still Dim For Settlement

WASHINGTON (AP) — Around-the-clock sessions start again at noon today for senators already buffeted by three weeks of battling over civil rights legislation. The outlook for settling the bitterly contested election year controversy appeared little, if any, brighter than it was when the issue was brought up in the Senate Feb. 15.

While Southerners expressed confidence they can keep going with the day-and-night talking they managed last week, Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.) called for a Senate vote soon to shut off the debate.

"They're wearing us out," he said in a television interview.

Douglas conceded that a determined filibuster cannot be broken by around-the-clock sessions. He said it would be difficult to get the two-thirds vote needed to shut off the debate, but added "I think we have a very good chance to win."

Sen. Clair Engle (D-Calif.), like Douglas a supporter of civil rights legislation said he has obtained six of the 16 signatures necessary to file a petition for such a vote. He said, however, that Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas had counseled him against pushing it at this time.

Even if a debate-closing vote were forced, there is general agreement it would fail at this time. Johnson is trying to work out a compromise bill that could win the support of two-thirds of the senators.

Public Health League Sets Annual Session

Dr. William M. Morgan of Alliance, past president of the National Tuberculosis Assn., will be guest speaker at the annual meeting of the Columbiana County Public Health League Wednesday, April 6, at the Wick Hotel in Lisbon.

The general membership meeting will begin at 8 p.m., preceded by a dinner. Among the times on the agenda will be the treasurer's report, the nominating committee report and the report of the constitution revision committee.

Miss Lillian Schroeder is executive director of the health league.

Post Holds Anniversary Banquet

VFW Honors Two For Community Service

Allen K. Reynolds Post 832, Veterans of Foreign Wars, celebrated its 38th birthday anniversary Saturday with a family coversh dinner at the Post Home. There were 150 in attendance.

A highlight of the event was the presentation of community service awards by the post and its auxiliary to Mrs. D. M. Fadely and John Herman.

Commander Marshall Sutherin, master of ceremonies, introduced the Rev. Fr. Warren Braun of Leetonia, chaplain of Department of Ohio VFW, who gave the invocation.

on and en. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) will figure most prominently in the balloting.

They won't oppose each other. But their totals in the separate Republican and Democratic divisions of the primary will be compared.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.), who opposes Kennedy in the Wisconsin Primary April 5, finished a weekend tour of that state.

Weekend in Illinois
Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.), who describes himself as "increasingly interested" in becoming a candidate, spent his weekend in southern Illinois, attacking the Eisenhower administration's defense and farm policies.

The civil rights filibuster was set to resume in the Senate, apparently affecting the fortunes of Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) more than any other presidential hopeful.

The California Republican Assembly gave its favorite son, Nixon, a jubilant endorsement for president Sunday.

Kennedy, who is opposed in the primary by Chicago pen manufacturer Paul C. Fisher, has stepped up enthusiasm among his Democratic audiences in New Hampshire. He has been campaigning hard, drawing large crowds.

Nixon Is Unopposed

Nixon has not come to the state. Gov. Wesley Powell and other Republican leaders, concentrating on telephone and radio appeals, have taken the job of getting out the Republican vote for Nixon, who is unopposed.

Although Fisher is not expected to dent the Kennedy vote, he may inject some unexpected liveliness into the campaign at the University of New Hampshire.

Kennedy is scheduled to deliver a speech on disarmament there today. University officials refused to let Fisher share the platform but offered to let him speak later.

Fisher has said he will join Kennedy with or without permission.

In Milwaukee, Humphrey attacked what he called Republican complacency on defense.

"All that America needs," Humphrey said on a radio-TV program Sunday "is somebody to tell us that the siesta is over and for us to get up and go to work."

In southern Illinois, Symington found an area that obviously likes him as a possible candidate. In Herrin, Ill., a Democratic club made him an honorary member.

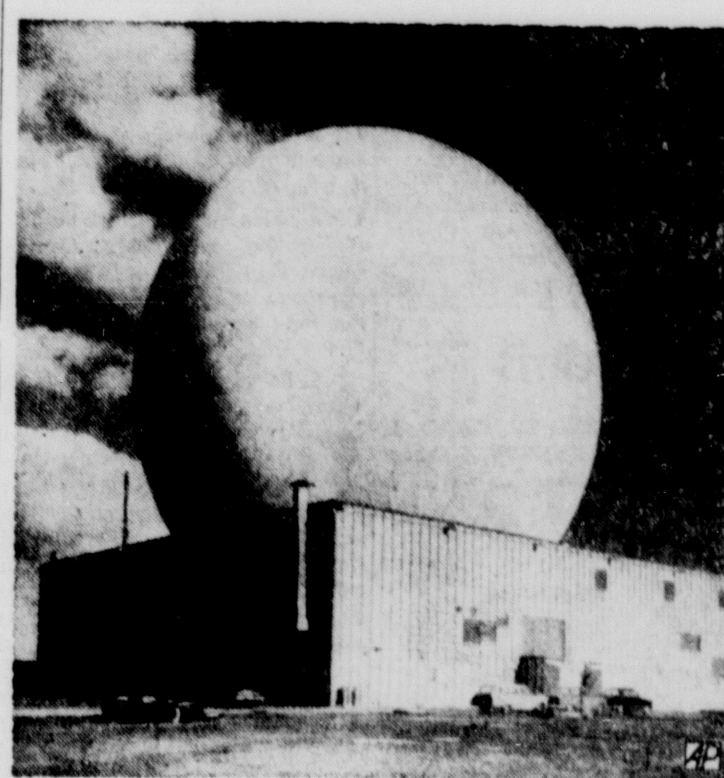

The big question involves his vote on a possible move to limit debate and thus stop the filibuster.

City Crews Complete Snow Removal Here

Salem streets were pretty well cleaned of drifted snow today as the result of continued efforts of service department workers.

Crews plowed every street in town Friday and Saturday, Mayor Dean Cranmer reported by using city equipment and a grader borrowed from Perry Township trustees and a hi-lift loaned by the Ohio Fuel Gas Co.

MISSILE TRACKING STATION — The giant radar dish-antenna housed in this 15-story-high plastic and paper sphere at the Radio Corporation of America plant at Morrestown, N. J., is part of the nation's Ballistic Missile Early Warning System. High powered transmitting apparatus and complex computers in the base building are designed to detect and track missiles 2,000 miles away. The device is a prototype of detection radar sets which scientists hope will give the nation a 15-minute warning in event of a ballistic missile attack.

Ike to Prepare Report to Nation on Tour

RAMEY AIR FORCE BASE, Puerto Rico (AP)—Deeply tanned and looking chipper again, President Eisenhower flies home to Washington today to ready a radio-TV report to the nation on his 15,500 mile visit to four South American countries.

His hoarseness nearly gone, Eisenhower planned to take off from this U.S. air force base aboard his Boeing 707 jet at noon for the three-hour flight to Andrews Air Force Base outside Washington.

Eisenhower concluded a 10-day tour of Brazil, Argentina, Chile and Uruguay last Thursday and has been resting at sun-drenched Ramey since. He arrived at the base exhausted and developed a plaguing voice huskiness that gave him trouble during a speech at Dorado Beach Friday.

Sunday his weariness nearly gone, Eisenhower flew back to the Dorado Beach Club 60 miles east of here and played 18 holes of golf in ideal weather.

The White House went ahead with plans for his address Tuesday night. He will speak from Washington for 15 minutes starting at 7 p.m. Eastern Standard Time. The address will be carried by all major TV and radio networks.

Mother Kills Baby, Injures 2 Children

NEW YORK (AP) — Two small children were near death today, the victims of an insane mother who beat them with a hammer.

Ann Sklovsky, 7, and her brother, Stewart, 2, have been unconscious at St. Joseph's Hospital in Queens since Saturday.

Their father, Seymour, found them with their dead brother, Jay, 1, in their Far Rockaway home.

Their mother, Norma, 30, who had been under psychiatric treatment, was found hanged in the cellar. Police said she apparently killed the baby and critically injured the two other children with a hammer, and then committed suicide.

Accusation by Castro Elicits Sharp Protest

Cuban Authorities Free American Held In Explosion Probe

HAVANA (AP) — The United States today hands Cuba a stiff protest against Fidel Castro's speech blaming U.S. officials for the munitions ship explosion in Havana Bay Friday.

Strained U.S. - Cuban relations moved closer to a showdown with the Washington note expected to accuse the bearded prime minister of deliberately making an irresponsible accusation. U.S. Charge d'Affaires Daniel M. Braddock was to deliver the American denial of Castro's charge.

Photographer Released

Cuban authorities Sunday night freed American photographer Donald Chapman, 26, a passenger on the ship, after holding him two days in connection with the disaster.

Castro had personally interrogated Chapman before making his all-out blast at the United States at a mass funeral for victims of the disaster, which he blamed on sabotage.

The free-lance photographer, from North Bend, Neb., was on the bridge when the French freighter La Coubre blew up, killing 50 to 70 persons. He jumped to safety on the dock after the first explosion.

Chapman said he "didn't have the slightest idea we had munitions aboard until we were well under way" after sailing from Antwerp, Belgium.

Cleared By Court

A Cuban civilian court cleared Chapman of any connection with the explosions in a five-minute hearing after Cuban military intelligence had held him incommunicado. No official charges were ever placed against him.

Cuban newspapers and radio stations kept up their anti-American denunciations. They elaborated on Castro's vague charges of sabotage in trying to pin the blame on the United States.

Castro conceded that his charges were based largely on U.S. policy rather than any concrete evidence. He declared U.S. officials had tried to prevent Cuba from getting arms by diplomatic means "and we have a right to believe they could have tried to prevent it by other means."

None Injured In 3 Road Mishaps

Snow was responsible for two of three accidents investigated by the Lisbon State Highway Patrol over the weekend. There were no injuries.

A car driven by Clyde Wolfgang, 49, of RD 5, Lisbon, collided with a car driven by Hobart Shields, 63, RD 1, Wellsville, Saturday at 3:10 p.m. on the Lower Elkton Rd. north of Rt. 154. Patrolmen said Wolfgang was forced left of center when he hit a snow bank in the roadway.

Two cars were damaged slightly at 3:45 p.m. Saturday when one driven by Olive E. Boyles, 39, East Palestine, went out of control on Township Rd. 958 after she attempted to stop for a snowdrift. Patrolmen said her car struck one driven by Clair H. Kelly, 24, of East Palestine. The accident occurred two miles north of East Palestine.

Charged with reckless operation after a two car accident on Rt. 7 was Hubert E. Quertemous, 39, of Draton Plaines, Mich. Patrolmen said he was driver of a car, northbound on Rt. 7, which collided with a second car driven by Samuel J. King, 63, Chicago. Quertemous was passing a third vehicle, patrolmen said, when he met King who was southbound on Rt. 7. The accident occurred at 12:10 p.m. Saturday, about eight miles south of Rt. 14.

'Boy' Inspecting Officer Probed

GIs Resent Bawling Out by 'Lieutenant'

MUNICH, Germany (AP)—The U.S. Army today investigated GI complaints that their commanding officer took his 11-year-old son on an official inspection tour and the boy bawled out a soldier for his uniform.

The youngster is Richard Juergens, son of Col. E. K. Juergens. For the inspection he wore a lieutenant's uniform, complete with campaign ribbons and swag-gar stick.

The boy reportedly tore apart one soldier's display of his clothing, held up a parka and barked to the first sergeant: "This guy doesn't have a (shoulder) patch. His name is Holmes — H-O-L-M-E-S."

"The kid should be spanked—and his old man, too," said one sergeant.

An Army spokesman said the inspector general is investigating the incident, which took place here Feb. 26, but declined official comment.

Col. Juergens, commanding the 47th Ordnance Group with headquarters in Munich, acknowledged to reporters his son accompanied him on the inspection of a company here.

"Richard is my only son and he's quite a pal of mine," the colonel said. "When I took him

Butler Says Ike Must Answer to Crash Victims' Kin

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP) — Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler says President Eisenhower "has something to answer for" to the wives and children of Navy men killed in a Rio De Janeiro air crash.

Butler made the statement Sunday night during a debate with Sen. Hugh D. Scott Jr. (R-Pa.) at Temple Emanuel. Scott retorted: "This attempt to put blood on the hands of the President is not very credible."

Some 500 in the audience applauded Scott strongly.

The Rio crash on Feb. 26 took 64 lives, including those of members of the U.S. Navy Band who were to have played for the President on his South American tour.

Butler questioned whether Eisenhower had the right to take the Navy band on his trip and asked "was this a political show or something?"

Scott answered the Navy band was in South America on a cultural exchange tour aboard the cruiser Macon.

Studios Curtail Operations as Guild Strikes

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The Screen Actors Guild today called the first strike in its history against producers of theater motion pictures, forcing seven major film studios to shut down part of their operations.

No picket lines were expected, but the 14,000 members of the SAG were preparing for a strike at least six weeks long.

The guild rejected a request by the Assn. of Motion Picture Producers that films now being shot be completed before the actors walk out.

Th SAG board of directors also voted to ask the Federal Mediation Service to help settle the dispute, a guild spokesman said.

Main issue is the guild demand that actors be paid part of the earnings of pictures made since 1948 and sold to television. Producers claim this would be paying twice for the same job.

Not affected by the strike will be independent producers, studios filming television shows and Universal - International. The independents and UI have signed new contracts with the SAG.

An industry spokesman said about 5,000 persons will be idled at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, Columbia, Allied Artists, Paramount, 20th Century-Fox, Warner Brothers and Walt Disney.

Stresses Defense Deficiencies

Sen. Symington Gets Warm Reception on Illinois Campaign

Editor's note—Associated Press reporters are traveling periodical with each presidential hopeful as he makes his pitch for the most powerful elective post in the world. Here Arthur Edson, who has watched politicians in Washington for 15 years, digs out of an Illinois snowdrift to report on his tour with Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri.

By ARTHUR EDSO N

HERRIN, Ill. (AP)—Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo) woos the Democratic nomination for president like a man in love with the most popular girl in town.

He knows he isn't her first choice right now. But if he hangs around, looking wistful and ready, may she not eventually pass the flashier candidates by as she realizes the true worth and charm of good old Stu Symington?

Out here in frigid, blustery southern Illinois—the temperature one morning was 12 below—Symington got the kind of welcome so essential for a politician's hopes and ego.

This is Symington territory. In the basement of St. Mary's School 600 of the Democratic faithful met to eat ravioli and listen to the senator from neighboring Missouri.

The tobacco smoke got thicker and thicker.

The introductions—"I now present another man who needs no introduction"—went on endlessly.

But Symington seemed to enjoy himself. He dutifully clapped with the rest of the audience as a hill-billy singer, Hank Wright, led the song, "In His Hands." He laughed when Wright made up a new verse to an old tune and put Symington on the presidential train.

"We'll carry him to victory," Hank sang, "on the Wabash Cannonball."

And best of all, speaker after speaker—including the speaker of the Illinois House, Paul Powell, and a former Illinois governor, John Stelle—said how happy they were to have the next president here with them.

Most surveys show that Symington can claim only around 200 votes, or less than a third of the 761 needed to nominate, at the Democratic convention in Los Angeles this July. His best bet: a deadlock, with the delegates then turning to him as their second choice.

But such sobering statistics were ignored here.

Technically, Symington isn't a candidate. But when he was asked in Springfield if he intended to become one, this fast traveling man who spoke in 32 states in 1959 and will come close to completing the full 50 this year, said with a grin: "I'm getting increasingly interested in it."

This reporter has spent three days with Symington, flying with him in a chartered DC3 around central and southern Illinois, driving over icy, dangerous roads.

The thing that Symington has stressed in almost every speech is his contention that President Eisenhower, by putting such emphasis on a balanced budget, has allowed this country to slip behind in defense.

Symington contends that the administration gives out rosy reassurances to the public while senators are taken into secret session for the stark facts of military life.

But he also hits out at farm policy. (You can get applause from any Democratic audience in the Midwest simply by denouncing Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson). Symington says interest rates are destroying small business. He says that with an income of $1,400,000,000 a day this nation can well afford better schools, better roads, better flood control.

Why do his backers consider Symington the man for the job?

Well, he has been a successful business man, he has been secretary of the Air Force, he has held down other government executive jobs.

Repeatedly his introduction will run like this: "I now give you the man who has had more executive experience than all the other candidates of both parties combined."

Six feet 2 1/2 inches tall, his blond hair now mixed with gray, a trim 185-pounder, Symington makes a good platform appearance.

But even his strongest supporters know he has one thing running against him.

All the other active Democratic candidates are young enough to have, in theory, another chance.

But Stuart Symington will be 59 in June. For him, it's now or never.

S. Stange, left, is a pediatrician; Dr. T. H. Sattler, right, deals with internal medicine. Below, X-ray specialist Steel examines a patient in Sacred Heart Hospital in Yankton as Dr. C. B. If Stomach's Weak Don't Read This About Tasty Insects

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Tired of the same old meat and potatoes?

Why not take a crack at some bumblebees swimming in sauce, topped off with french fried caterpillars?

These items are not only tasty but nutritious. This is on the authority of Marston Bates, Michigan zoologist and gourmet, who notes that termites in terms of calories are among the richest of foods—better even than fish or meat.

Writing in the "American Scholar," Bates wonders why Americans reject insects in their diet.

After all, he says, honey is one of our favorite foods and—if you'll pardon the expression—honey is an insect product the bee regurgitates into the honeycomb.

In Old Testament days, honey and locusts met with the same popular response as grits and greens or blintzes and sour cream do today. But not many dig locusts, any more in our part of the world.

It's a pity, too, because, as Bates assures, locusts are a taste treat. Particularly the female swollen with eggs.

There is hope enough. A local specialty shop reports more and more grasshoppers are finding their way into Akron stomachs, chiefly as the forerunner to a martini.

But there are dangers involved for the unwary. Medical literature lists cases of wafarian grasshopper-gulpers who became seriously ill with intestinal obstructions caused by indigestible legs and wings.

The moral here is don't be a pig. Discard the wings and legs. In general, past attempts to get Americans to set insect dishes at the supper table have met with a notable lack of enthusiasm.

Prejudice reared its ugly head. But a new era may be dawning—an era of tolerance and broad-mindedness toward the tastes of other peoples.

Would I care for mushrooms smothered in moths for supper tonight? Not on your life, Mother.

New Construction To Aid Steel Mills

CLEVELAND (AP)—The upturn in orders from the construction industry — which usually takes about 14 per cent of finished steel shipments, is encouraging to steel producers, Steel Magazine said today.

The seasonal increase in construction comes at a time when the auto industry, which accounts for 19 per cent of steel's use, is lagging.

The metalworking weekly also gave this revised estimate of 1960 ingot production:

"In the first quarter, an average rate of 94 per cent, with output of 35 million tons. In the second quarter, 85 per cent, 31 million tons third quarter, 70 per cent, 26 million tons; fourth quarter, 80 per cent, 30 million."

"For the year: An 82 per cent rate and record production of 122 million ingot tons. If construction demand is good, operations may not drop as low as 70 per cent in the third quarter." The magazine added:

"Chances for an upturn in the fourth quarter depend on success of 1961 autos and realizations of capital spending plans."

Americans Want More Style, Experimental 'Mud' Houses Pass Test of Time

Americans want more style and more beauty in their homes, believe two famous architects.

The architect is no longer, says San Francisco architect Henry Hill, designing the enclosed box—or a series of boxes—with holes punched into the walls through which to peek out.

The average home buyer won't look the second time at bleak masonry walls; he wants the richness of wood paneling. He no longer wants an antiseptic-looking white ceiling; he wants texture, character and interesting enclosure of space for living with living wood.

People want homes designed with living wood all around them, says Ralph Walker, nationally known New York architect. We use wood for its efficiency, he points out, but more because of the lasting delights found in its varied patterns, in its fragrance, in its rare functionalism.

Wood is inherently a vital and living material, continues Architect Hill. More than any other material we have, it has an extraordinary abundance of the best that is in human being: life and warmth and a vital quality of expressing itself so that we all understand it immediately, and with understanding.

Both men in recent addresses have commented on the increasing trend toward wood use in home design. Nine out of every ten homes in the nation are framed in sturdy wood dimension lumber, the most widely used being Douglas fir and west coast hemlock. But an increasing number of homes are being designed with exposed beam and ceiling to take advantage of the great natural beauty of wood. Exposed structural timbers add to the charm of homes.

Most widely acclaimed use of wood in home design, the experts observe, is in wall paneling and in storage units. Here the lovely, unduplicated texture and grain and coloring of the woods show to their best advantage. New plastic finishes bring out the rich tawny beige colors of fir and hemlock and the soft, warm autumn reds and browns of western red cedar.

When most people think of style and beauty in a home, they think of wood and all its natural charm and loveliness.

BUILT OF DIRT — Mrs. Lincoln Dowdey stands in front of the rammed-earth house she and her husband bought 12 years ago. The house has walls 18 inches thick.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — Houses built of dirt 23 years ago are still solid, occupied and—with inflation—worth many times their original value.

During construction in 1936-37 skeptics called them mud houses and predicted they would crumble in the first heavy rain.

As if to prove them wrong, Mrs. Rachel H. Seisson, only original occupant still in the houses, said she recently turned down an offer of $17,500 for her three-bedroom residence. She paid $1,824 for it in 1940 after renting for three years at $12 to $17 a month.

The federal Farm Security Administration chose the Mount Olive community, 10 miles north of here, for the seven experimental rammed-earth houses. The Works Projects Administration, the depression-born WPA, provided the labor.

Earth scraped from the lot sites was hand-packed into wooden forms for outside walls and interior partitions. When it dried the forms were removed, leaving, in effect, one huge brick in the shape of a house.

Workers used nothing more than wood or iron poles to pack the earth.

Architect Thomas Hibben designed the houses and in 1942 designed some similar houses near Alexandria, Va. Earth in these houses, however, was packed with powered hammers.

Engineers now say they don't know what there is in the soil which permits such construction.

All walls are 18 inches thick. Hardwood or tile flooring covers a cement slab foundation. All roofs are flat, covered with gravel and tar, and separated from room ceilings by an 18-inch air space. Because of the material used there is only one conventional window in each house. It is in the bathroom.

Other windows are French-type doors, extending from floor to ceiling. Some residents have added partitions at the top of bottom of window areas to give the houses a more conventional appearance.

A stucco finish has been applied to the exterior of the houses. All are painted. Inside, the walls painted like ordinary building materials.

All the houses are occupied and residents agree that the thick walls provide excellent insulation, keeping the interiors cool in the summer and retaining heat in the winter.

Different Roof Designs May Be All the Rage Soon

How would you like to live under a hyperbolic paraboloid?

Don't laugh, because homes designed with exciting roof systems which have beautiful sweeping lines may soon be all the rage.

It all started out in Portland, Oregon, last year when architect John Storr designed a pavilion for the Oregon Centennial commission for his client, the forest products industries. The pavilion had a roof made of seven, huge hyperbolic paraboloids.

These four shells of wood, only two inches thick covered a roof 230 feet long by 130 feet wide and had amazing strength. The engineering principle of the hyperbolic is to take advantage of wood's extraordinary strength in compression and tension.

Architects from all over the nation came to see the Centennial Exposition and the pavilion with the dramatic roof system. Now these architects are designing schools, churches, supermarkets and even homes with this startling new roof system.

The two layers of tongue-and-groove wood are laid diagonally and stapled together with sturdy staples. Douglas fir was used because of its great strength. Two opposite corners of the roof sweep upwards to form exciting lines and aboloid.

two opposite corners slope downward to form the anchor for the roof which is light-weight, low cost, but very strong. A built-up roof-in can be applied over the paraboloid.

The All-American Pillory

It is said there are two things everybody knows how to run better than the people who run them — restaurants and newspapers.

But there are three things. Everybody knows how to run government better, too. They know how to solve all government problems, including the ones with no solution.

Government is fair game for all—politicians of the party out of power, disgruntled taxpayers, disappointed job-seekers, chronic complainers and the pundits of the press.

Public officials can expect to grow callouses from standing in the pillory, ducking as many overripe vegetables as possible and taking the bullseyes with closed-eye composure. That's the way the game is played in popular government.

But when something like the missile dispute breaks out, the problem belongs not only to the victims in the pillory but to the onlookers. What are they supposed to do and feel when public officials are under attack by relentless critics?

THIS IS a demonstration of freedom to criticize government. It is the way Americans safeguard the public business — by tearing apart public issues in public. There are no secrets in the United States. Everybody probes and peers, even hostile outsiders.

Moreover, it is assumed that when there is a call to stand up and be counted everybody will exercise his personal power of decision. The people will decide. But how can Americans be expected to decide the merits of the missile dispute?

It is not, in the first place, a dispute in the same sense that giving Negroes the right to vote in the South is a dispute. It is a technical argument that can be carried on intelligently only by the most highly trained people in the still new field of missiles.

Yet, it is being batted around like a shuttlecock by men who wouldn't know a nose cone from a stabilizing fin. The money problems involved in missile development are being hashed over glibly in terms of billions by men whose only financial training has been in out-fumbling their pals for a $20 dinner check.

Strategic considerations are being mouthed solemnly by men who would be stumped if confronted with an after-dark detour.

Suddenly everybody is an expert in something nobody can understand because the whole subject is still experimental and theoretical. Reckless comparisons are made as if unprovable claims were holy writ.

An ordinary citizen, looking on at this carnival of irresponsible attack, is supposed to choose between the government side and the attacking side.

THERE CAN BE no popular decision on the technical merits of the issue. The American people cannot make judgments on things they do not understand.

There can be a popular decision on the merits of the persons who are carrying on the argument, however.

The attackers are gambling they will win popular favor. The government officials being pilloried by their attackers must take their chances, as always, with the correctness of a policy in being — a policy that can be second-guessed, as always.

People who claim they can run the government better — or restaurants and newspapers — are always in danger of talking themselves into a corner if it becomes obvious they do not know how to do the job better; that they are talking only because they love the sound of their voice.

Defense Snafu -- Situation Normal

If all the critics of the national defense program were brought together in one place under instructions to agree on recommendations for a program they could support, they would get nowhere.

If they were thrown into a bear pit with the people who already have agreed on a program and ordered to fight it out, the country would get nowhere.

There is no such thing as a national defense program that meets with everybody's approval. There never has been.

National defense has been threshed out by trial and error and by fits and starts from the beginning. Like the wars it was supposed to avert, or, if that failed, to enable the country to fight, the situation is normal when it's all fouled up.

Snafu was one of the most helpful concepts to come out of World War II. It helped civilians to help understand something that all fighting men learn to know early in the game — that any undertaking as vast and as complex as an all-out military effort is certain to turn into a snafu: Situation Normal, All Fouled Up.

National defense on a wartime scale is a snafu by its nature. The United States is striving to cover every eventuality in a war it hopes to avert against an enemy it does not yet have, with weapons it cannot choose under conditions it cannot foretell.

There is room for wide differences of opinion even among experts, and when non-experts pile into the donnybrook with opinions and criticisms the result is bedlam.

Due to confusion, someone must distill a general policy and see to it that things get done. Otherwise, the debate would rumble on forever. Getting things done is the responsibility of the commander-in-chief and his advisers and aides. They more than anyone else could wish they could eliminate the snafu and attain such perfection that even their severest political critics would not want to open their mouths.

It never has been that way. It never will be that way. That is something to think about when the bedlam and second-guessing approach the hysteria level.

Even in wartime, snafu is ever present and ever resented. But in wartime, there is a certain amount of restraint not present in peacetime. The snafu is suffered in comparative silence. In peacetime it's a challenge to everybody with a second guess to offer.

Anything For a Good Showing

One of the weirdest rackets of our times has been revealed by the district attorney of New York County — ghost-writing agencies that turn out work for college and university students.

The products of the agencies range from ordinary term papers all the way to a thesis for a doctorate. Service often is customized, to throw off suspicion. If a C student buys a paper, for example, it will be suitable for a student of his previous attainment.

This sophisticated form of cheating is an outgrowth, of course, of the grading system that puts a premium on the mark made in a course, instead of putting the premium on the knowledge obtained by taking the course.

The only solution in sight — and not in very plain sight — is the greater use of examinations.

tions similar to the oral examinations given candidates for high degrees, in which students would be questioned first-hand about their knowledge in face-to-face interviews before being given credit for completed work.

This would be physically impossible in educational institutions that graduate thousands of students each year. But something like it may have to be done eventually to put a stop to the cheating that flourishes under existing systems of putting the premium on marks instead of knowledge.

More and more, as good jobs are reserved for the graduates of high schools and colleges, students will be tempted to qualify themselves for consideration at any price. The premium on cheating will go higher. Some way will have to be found to separate the presumptively educated from the actually educated, to protect the public.

No one wants to be forced to wonder if a brain surgeon who is about to start a tricky cranial operation may have cheated his way through some sticky educational passage in medical school.

Accredited Hospitals

Renewal of accreditation of Salem's two hospitals—the Central Clinic and City Hospital—seems like a routine procedure when the Joint Commission of Hospitals, the accrediting agency, makes its announcement each year at this time.

There's more to it than meets the public eye.

The hospitals constantly must maintain a safe physical plant, free of fire hazards; maintain careful supervision and review by the medical staff of patient care given at the hospital; make special studies of all unusual or complicated cases, keep adequate medical records; maintain ethical practices, investigate all tissue removed at operations; provide proper nursing care; and maintain a proper administrative and medical staff organization.

That is why it is more than just a routine stamp of approval by the American College of Physicians and Surgeons, the American Hospital Association and the American Medical Association each year. The hospitals' accreditation is your assurance of good hospital care, if and when you need it.

Competition

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

In these United States even those labor leaders who have refused under oath to admit or deny membership in the Communist party are privileged to recruit union followers in the most critical and most secret of our electronic defense plants. It is also the privilege of the free press to report this as it happens.

And it is happening at a strategic installation in the Baltimore area — at the Westinghouse Air-Arm Division.

The well-guarded factory — key to vast bomber and missile production — already is unionized by the AFL-CIO International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (IBEW). But the independent United Electrical Workers Union (UE) — some of whose leaders have frequently been accused before congressional committees of long pro-Communist activity — simply wants to move in. Legally, of course. And that is its right — its legal right.

SOME DAY some philosopher will explain to the public just why one union should be permitted to declare war on another which has been selected by the employees of a plant. But there it is.

Now this plant is really the bottleneck unit for the production of the wiring systems for our national missile program. It is considered so crucial by the Army and Navy, the plant's chief customers, that virtually all workers are security checked.

Its main product is the Bomarc missile. This is a land-to-air missile which makes the old ack-ack of earlier wars look like the crossbows and catapults of St. Joan's army.

The Bomarc guards our big cities and army bases. From its strategic depots, it can knock enemy missiles, rockets or planes out of the air. It seeks them out automatically once it's fired.

This is accomplished by a secret proximity fuse, the great-grandchild of the fuse which we delivered by special cruiser to embattled and blitzed London during the last war. The electronic work for this new proximity fuse is made at this Westinghouse plant.

A SECRET electronic system component for the biggest new bombers is also whipped out there.

And when next you see a flying saucer, it isn't from Mars — it's from Westinghouse-Baltimore. And it isn't a saucer — it's a parabolic balloon used for space investigation.

Some 1,250 of the company's workers handling these gadgets are in what is called the bargaining unit — the union now under contract with Westinghouse.

This unit, Local 1805 of the IBEW, signed its contract after a contest in 1955 in which they defeated the UE. The IBEW beat the left-wingers three to one.

The UE simply waited a while, reorganized its forces and dispatched six of its key organizers to the city. They are a strange lot sometimes — wearing six-inch buttons and chefs' hats to call attention to themselves.

ONE OF THE ORGANIZERS of this drive had set up a dance studio so he could spend the time in Baltimore without appearing to be staking out the place for outer space arrivals. Another is a veteran of bloody picket line violence in Dayton over a decade ago.

The dance master is one Herb Nichol. The man from the Midwest is one Lou Kaplan. Both refused to tell congressional committees whether or not they were members of the Communist party.

Taking "the Fifth" on this question has long been the tactic of some of the UE national leaders, now using the old Vanderbilt mansion in New York as their national headquarters.

There are, of course, non-Communists in the UE Baltimore drive which is about to hit its climax. The UE has filed for a National Labor Relations Board election in about a month. It wants workers in the plant to oust the IBEW and replace it with the UE.

It's fascinating that the UE, cried out against imperialism, which has loudly over the years spends so much time, energy and money in this type of dues imperialism.

The Real Liberals

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Foes of Government Meddling In Radio-TV

There are two schools of thought nowadays in public affairs — those who want the government to take charge of everything and those who want to see the individual freed from unnecessary restraints and restrictions so he can develop his ideas and his enterprises.

The subject is pertinent today because one group advocates that the government shall take complete charge of radio and television and the other argues that this would be the worst thing that could happen to freedom of communication.

Which one of the two groups might be classed as liberal and which one could be described as authoritarian?

To get an answer, the writer consulted "Webster's New World Dictionary" and found this:

1. An authoritarian is one who believes in or advocates "unquestioning obedience to authority rather than individual freedom of judgment and action."

2. A liberal favors "political reforms tending toward democracy and personal freedom for the individual."

Just who, therefore, are the true liberals in the controversy going on these days over what should be done about regulating television and radio? Even such an organization as one which calls itself The American Civil Liberties Union seems to have deviated from the liberal faith as it declares that the Federal Communications Commission "should energetically exercise its power to require the radio-television industry to provide the maximum possible range and balance in subject matter and treatment in its over-all programming."

IN A SPEECH the other day, Dr. Frank Stanton, president of the Columbia Broadcasting System, called for a "freely competing, unrestricted television medium."

He has been criticized for this statement on the ground that, since television channels are few in number and are allocated by the government, this is a monopoly.

Dr. Stanton answers that there is no more reason why television should be regulated as to its content than newspapers should be.

The argument is made in reply that anybody can buy a printing press and start a newspaper but nobody can get a television channel unless it is given up by a company already holding one.

But is this an accurate analogy? Must the government undertake to "balance" the disparities in business or the professions?

It so happens that in about 95 per cent of the cities of the United States there is one newspaper ownership. Is it the duty of the government to provide competitors to "balance" in each community the viewpoint of the existing publication?

Certainly with the rising costs of newsprint and labor and the limited advertising market available in a given community, it wouldn't be possible as a rule to start a competing paper unless the government were to put up the funds.

Is the continued existence of one-paper cities something that troubles the authoritarian who really may think he favors balancing the situation but who would have to concede that, the moment the government starts to control what is said, this could be politically one-sided?

When the government tells the broadcasting stations what programs they must put on their channels to justify retention of their licenses, the end result is bound to be authoritarianism. It certainly can't be called liberalism.

THE VIEWPOINT which holds that, because the government allocates radio or television channels, it has the right to say what shall be done over the air waves by each licensee is not of recent origin.

Unfortunately, it was expressed as far back as the Hoover administration by the legalists who felt that the granting of a government facility gives to the government the right to determine the use of that facility.

This concept has been upheld by a ruling of the Supreme Court of the United States. But this very decision, which was dissented from by highly respected justices, really ignored the constitutional principle of a free press and free speech.

The writer all through the 1920's argued against the doctrine that the allocation of a radio license gave a government commission the right to tell a station what programs it should or should not broadcast.

There is, of course, every reason why the government should deny a license to any station that refuses to abandon misleading advertising or which engages in obscene shows but these are the same restraints which the Federal Trade Commission or the postal authorities may impose on the press.

To say that the government should pass judgment on the quality of radio or television programs is to say that the government should issue postal privileges only to the newspapers whose editorials measure up to a standard set by a governmental agency. This is the road to authoritarianism.

ALL TRUE LIBERALS will vigorously oppose any interference with the right of a broadcasting or television company to present whatever it pleases on the air provided it doesn't offend the laws against libel or obscenity.

It is fundamentally wrong, moreover, for Congress to insist on equal time for political candidates. The public alone should be the judge of whether the television or radio stations or the press are presenting balanced programs or news reports. And it is the public, not the government, which in the final analysis should decide whether it likes what it hears or what it sees or what it reads. That's true liberalism.

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Tree doctors haven't gotten around yet to prescribing aspirin for an arthritic elm in your backyard, but don't bet that they won't. In the Pacific Northwest they are now successfully using antibiotic drugs to treat ailing pine forests.

Women probably are more wide awake than men. Most men blink once every three seconds, most women only once every four seconds.

Odd laws: Massachusetts once passed legislation making it illegal for anyone to lounge on the shelves of a bakery.

Your blood is not only thicker than water. It is six times thicker. If you don't like saluting, join the Army and save your arm. The Army has only 11.5 officers out of every 100 military personnel. The comparable officer figure in the Air Force is 15.6.

What's-in-a-name dept.: Mrs. Henny Eggy owns a poultry farm at Kimberly, British Columbia.

Our quotable notables: Says Somerset Maugham, "In France, a man who has ruined himself for a woman is generally regarded with sympathy and admiration; there is a feeling that it was worthwhile, and the man who has done it feels even a certain pride in the fact. In England he will be thought, and think himself, a damned fool."

It is wise to be wary of snap judgments. But, according to a study made by a team of psychologists, the longer it takes you to make a decision, the greater the chance you'll make a mistake.

The long and short of it: Abe Lincoln, at 6-foot-4, was the tallest U.S. President. James Madison, exactly a foot shorter, was the smallest.

Executive signs: On the desk of Irving J. Bottner, president of Esquire Shoe Polish: "When you throw mud at somebody, you're the one who's losing ground."

How to calm a child: An Australian physician says crying babies can be soothed more quickly by an up-and-down motion than by either rocking or swinging them. (Just tie a rope under baby's arms, mother, and run her up and down like a yo-yo!)

Don't blame your head for your headaches. About 95 per cent of headaches are caused by something wrong elsewhere in the body. (A fellow we know claims 98 per cent of his headaches stem from his wife's jawbone.)

Irven Brownlee, Sr.

PETERSBURG — Irven W. Brownlee Sr., 90, died at 8:05 a.m. Saturday at the Wilson Rest Home in New Springfield, where he had resided for three years. Born in Boardman Nov. 15, 1869, he was a son of James A. and Rebecca Gilchrist Brownlee and was the last of the original pioneer Brownlee families in Mahoning County. He was a member of the Petersburg Presbyterian Church. A retired employee of the Duquesne Light Co. in Pittsburgh, he formerly lived in Pittsburgh and Youngstown before moving to Petersburg. He was married Oct. 7, 1896 to Mary Lorimer. She died Aug. 30, 1954. Surviving are two sons, James L. Brownlee of Kingstown, Pa. and Irven W. Brownlee of Petersburg; a daughter, Mrs. A. M. Hillery of Indianapolis, Ind.; eight grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren. Service will be Tuesday at 1:30 p.m. at the Fry Funeral Home in Columbiana. The Rev. Lorry Horn, Jr. will officiate. Burial will be in Forest Lawn Cemetery, Youngstown. Friends may call from 7 to 9 p.m. at the funeral home.

William H. Smith

LISBON — William Henry Smith, 82, of Lisbon RD 1 died at 4:30 a.m. today at the East Liverpool Osteopathic Hospital where he had been a patient since Tuesday. A retired coal miner, he was in ailing health for the past two years. Born Feb. 9, 1878 in Pittsburgh, he was a son of Willard and Ann Gorden Smith, and he lived in this vicinity for last 25 years. Mr. Smith is survived by a son and daughter, William W. Smith of East Palestine and Mrs. Fred Metzky of Girard, and seven grandchildren. Services will be conducted Wednesday at 1:30 p.m. at the Eells-Leggett Funeral Home by the Rev. William Spangler, pastor of the First Christian Church. Burial will be in Lisbon Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home Tuesday evening.

Iler Funeral

Funeral services will be held Thursday at 2 p.m. at the Stark Memorial for LeRoy Iler, 81, of 109 E. 3rd St., who died of complications at 2:30 a.m. Saturday at the Central Clinic. The Rev. Harold Winn of the First Friends Church will officiate, assisted by the Rev. Charles Harworth, assistant pastor. Interment will be in Hope Cemetery. Friends may call at the Memorial Wednesday evening.

Students Picket Xenia Restaurant

XENIA, Ohio (AP) — Students from three Greene County colleges have organized a protest demonstration against a Xenia restaurant because of the owner's refusal to serve Negroes. But, within a few hours after the action at a mass meeting at the Antioch College student union in Yellow Springs, the Ohio Civil Rights Commission sent an observer to Xenia at the request of Chairman Richard E. Guggenheim of Cincinnati. And Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, in Columbus, asserted: "I hope that school authorities meeting at the Antioch College student union Sunday night, about 400 students, including a number from the predominantly Negro Wilberforce University and Central State College, agreed to form car pools to haul pickets to and from Geyer's Restaurant in Xenia. Restaurant proprietor George D. Geyer asserted: "I will remain closed until further notice. I have nothing further to say."

along, I just didn't think the men would be embarrassed or upset about it." When he learned later some of the GIs were fuming—calling it a "mockery of inspection" and "disgrace of the uniform"—the colonel returned and apologized to the company. Juergens said his son is a mascot of the 71st Ordnance Battalion, of which the inspected company is part. The colonel said he paid for the material of his son's uniform and gave it to the commander of the battalion who had a tailor make it up.

HOMEMAKERS TO MEET

ready receiving the publication is asked to register with Mrs. Fadely.

John Herman, recipient of the VFW Community Service Medal, was introduced by Commander Sutherin, who made the presentation in behalf of the organization in appreciation of Mr. Herman's work in youth activities.

Mr. Herman told of the organization and operation of the Hot Stove Baseball League for young boys. He told the parents of the importance of physical check-ups for all boys participating in the game, and said there is a place for all boys in the program even those whose health does not permit active play.

Atty. Cole Guest Speaker

Guest speaker was Attorney Howard Cole of Lisbon, past commander of Department of Ohio VFW. Mr. Cole told how the VFW was organized in Columbus by seven men who, upon their return from the Spanish American War, saw a great need among the sick and penniless veterans. At that time, no help was available from the government, so the group decided to form an organization which would take care of the veterans and their families. In the years that have followed, the program has enlarged to include community service and youth activities.

Mr. Cole also told of the children's home at Eton, Mich., where more than 250 children of veterans are cared for.

Mrs. Talbot, in behalf of the auxiliary, presented a series of historical recordings, "The Man and the Moment," to D. M. Fadely for use in the Salem Public Schools. She also presented the Post a birthday gift certificate for a sign to be placed in front of the Post building at a later date.

Entertainment was furnished by students of Mrs. Esther Odoran, with Rickie Vacar as master of ceremonies. He introduced: Donna Galchick, who sang "Somewhere Over the Rainbow," "Get Happy," "It's a Most Unusual Day" and "It's a Grand Old Flag."

Janet Galchick, "Red, Red Robin" and "The Sunny Side of the Street;" Tommy and Rickie Vacar, "The Three Bells;" Tommy Vacar, "He's Got the Whole World in His Hands" and "Shorten' Bread."

UCT Sets Officer Election Wednesday

Members of Salem Council, United Commercial Travelers of America, will hold their monthly meeting Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the United Steelworkers Hall, with Howard E. Coy, senior counselor, presiding.

Officers to serve for the ensuing year will be elected. The nominating committee is comprised of William Mackey, chairman; Louis C. Moushey and Ray J. Greenisen. Installation of officers will be April 2.

Plans will be completed for the installation ceremonies; the Salem Cancer Fund Drive, which the UCT sponsors each April; the Easter Egg Hunt May 16; and for the Safety Program in May.

Ray Greenisen will be in charge of the lunch to be served at the close of the business session.

Armonas Family Finds Reunion Hard to Believe

NEW YORK (AP) — The Armonas family, all four of them, came home today at last.

It had taken them 20 years to get together again. And they said they felt as if it were a miracle.

Separated on a visit to Lithuania in 1940, their reunion was arranged following a personal appeal to Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

Mrs. Barbara Armonas, 51, and her son, John Jr., 20, were allowed to come back to America.

They were met in Copenhagen Saturday by the father, John Armonas, 55, and daughter Donna, 24, of Wickliffe, Ohio, who flew here with them.

"My wife is very happy to be here," Armonas said. "She is thankful for the help given her. My son also is very happy to be in a capitalistic country—it looks good."

Miss Armonas said they all found the reunion "hard to believe—like a miracle," after the years of separation.

Her mother and brother had endured a "miserable existence" in Russia, she said, and her mother was still emotionally on edge about being allowed to leave "after all they had been through."

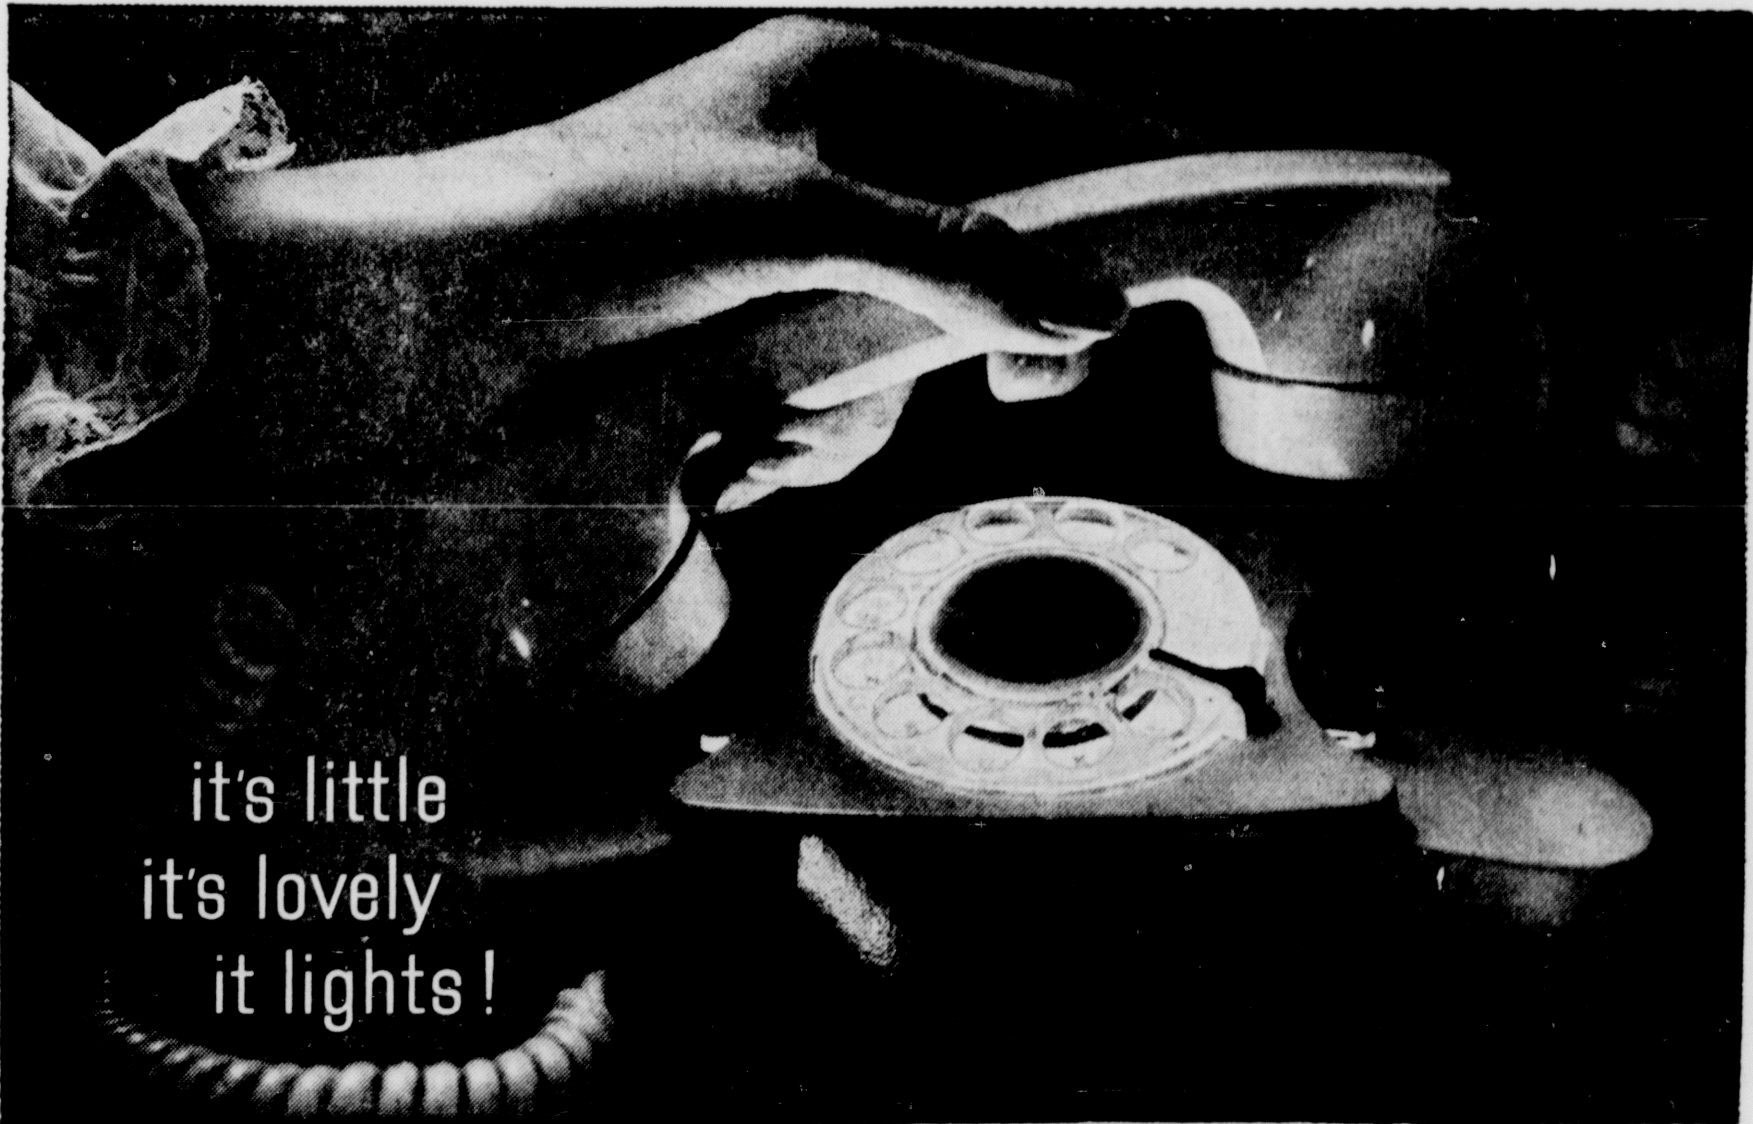

On the flight home, she said, her brother kept his safety belt fastened while he slept because "he was afraid he would have nightmares thinking of the fears and horrors of the past."

The family arrived on a Scandinavian airliner at Idlewild Airport, and takes Capital Airlines Flight 139 at 9:45 p.m., from Cleveland, arriving there at 11:55 p.m.

While visiting Lithuania in 1940, the Armonas family was trapped by the Soviet invasion. The father and daughter were permitted to leave because they were American citizens.

But Lithuania-born Mrs. Armonas, expecting a baby, was forced to stay behind.

The daughter appealed to Khrushchev in Pittsburgh in his recent visit to the United States, and he promised the mother and son would be given exit visas.

THE SUIT WITH DEMIFIT AND HIP-TOP length jacket has returned for spring as a major fashion classic. We show it here in two versions from famous designers. Strawberry pink petit point wool jacket and skirt (left) are combined with rose-printed white silk blouse and jacket lining. Blouse neckline has tiny ascot tie in this Roxane design for Samuel Winston. Red wool suit (right) shows the cropped, demifit jacket with wide, stand-up collar and two slanted pocket flaps. This is a Philippe Tournaye design for Marquise.

Rally Planned By Lutheran Women

The general meeting of the United Lutheran Church Women will be March 13 at Holy Trinity English Lutheran Church. Officers for next year will be elected, and the program will feature a film, "Advance in Africa."

A special Lenten prayer service will be held April 3. The Program topic will be "Lutherans Behind the Iron Curtain."

Spring Congress will be May 1 in Minerva.

A letter from the James Stulls, who are missionaries in ZoroZor Liberia, Africa, was read at all the recent circle meetings.

Thank-offerings have been planned by all the circles for the regular March meetings.

Reports of circle meetings follow:

Hope

A patriotic theme was carried out when dessert was served to 14 members of the Hope Circle by the hostesses, Mrs. Daryl Everett, Mrs. LeRoy Sell and Mrs. Galen Greenstein.

The leader, Mrs. C. A. Greenstein, led an interesting discussion on the topic, "Religion in the News." Each member brought a clipping of the subject.

Mrs. Edward Thomas, chairman of the education committee, conducted the business meeting when committee reports were heard.

Hostesses for the March meeting will be Mrs. C. A. Greenstein and Mrs. Roy Phillips. Leader of the topic, "Mission in the Bible," will be Mrs. Joe Wukotich.

Faith

Mrs. William Bailey and Mrs. Roger Tuel were hostesses to 14 members and a guest when Faith Circle met in the church.

Leader of the topic was Mrs. Robert Sell. Mrs. John Kryk, Christian service chairman, closed the discussion.

Mrs. Sell conducted the business session and welcomed a new member, Mrs. Elmer Smith.

Hostesses for the next meeting will be Mrs. Selma Dahms and Mrs. Karl Ramsden. Mrs. Kryk will be topic leader.

Patience

Thirteen members of Patience Circle gathered in the home of Mrs. John Tibball of Southeast Blvd. Mrs. Robert Hiltbrand was co-hostess.

All members participated in the discussion led by Mrs. Walter Hiltbrand.

Mrs. James Graybeal, circle leader, conducted the business session.

Mrs. Glenn Robbins and Mrs. Howard Moore will be hostesses for the March 23 meeting at 8:30 p.m., following the Lenten service.

Charity

Mrs. John Krumlauf was topic leader when eight members of the Charity Circle held their meeting.

Mrs. Martin Thomas and Miss Thelma Thomas were hostesses.

Mrs. Kenneth Stewart, circle leader, announced that the group will provide nursery assistants for March and April. Mrs. Jack Bailey and Mrs. Lester Lehman will serve on the sunshine committee for March.

Topic leader for the March meeting will be Mrs. Donald Izenour, while hostesses will be Mrs. Walter Black and Miss Mary Bergner.

Kensington

Meda Maple entertained the Friday Nite Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Beall, who have been ill, are still confined to their home.

The Cartwright family have moved from the Kathryn Cox property to Rt. 9.

Harry Lee Duvall celebrated his 10th birthday Saturday with a dinner. Those present were Nora Roach, Maxine Roach and Thelma Humphrey.

John Cope fell and broke his hip. He is in the Salem Clinic. Mrs. Cope is staying with her daughter, Mrs. Hazel Schmid of New Garden.

Virginia Symphony Plans Concert At Lisbon April 27

The Virginia Symphony Orchestra will present a concert in Lisbon High School auditorium April 27 at 8:15 p.m.

The concert is being sponsored by the Lisbon Music Study Club and other civic groups including the Kiwanis, Lions, Rotary and Ruritan Clubs.

Tickets are available now for adults and students, and the membership drive will continue through Saturday.

Anyone in the Salem area wishing tickets may obtain them from Mrs. Edward Nold, 840 N. Market St., Lisbon. Those associated with the Salem Music Study Club may call Mrs. Curtis Vaughan at ED 2-5465.

The 25-piece orchestra was selected from the larger Virginia Orchestra with headquarters in Richmond. Members are making an extensive tour of the United States this Spring, and their stop in Lisbon will be between visits to Dearborn, Mich. and Dover, Del.

Cancer Society Sets Meeting for Thursday

The Columbiana County Unit of the American Cancer Society will meet Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the Department of Health at the Courthouse in Lisbon.

Campaign planning will be a feature of the board meeting conducted by Edna Jones, president.

Parenthood Class Resumption Planned

The sixth and last in a series of parenthood education classes was held Wednesday evening at the Hannah E. Mullins Nurses Home. Another course will be offered in April.

Sponsors of the course were the Alumnae Association of Salem City Hospital School of Nursing, Women's Auxiliary of Salem Hospitals and the Salem City Health Department.

Mrs. Louis Weirick instructed the class on the subject, "Needs of our Child During Growth and Development." She pointed out that their early years are the most important years in the life span because they concern the stages of physical growth along with emotional development.

"As loving parents," Mrs. Weirick told her class, "You will want for your children good health, a happy home, a wholesome neighborhood and a community interested in its youth."

A film, "Babies Like to Eat," was shown. Mrs. Weirick and Mrs. Elizabeth Stacey presented a skit on "Post Partum Care for the Mother."

Certificates were presented to the mothers-to-be.

At a social hour that followed, refreshments were served by Mrs. J. F. Jose and Mrs. Blanche Holt, members of the auxiliary.

Prospective mothers interested in taking the course beginning April 20 may obtain registration cards from their physicians or at the health department in City Hall, ED 7-8543.

The six consecutive classes will convene at 7 p.m. The two-hour classes will contain information on prenatal and postnatal care, care of the infant and nutritional needs.

The course also will include a tour of the hospital in which the mother expects to be delivered.

These classes are meant only to supplement, not to take the place of regular visits of the mother to her physician.

Hamilton Man Sought In Fatal Shooting

LEBANON, Ohio (AP)—A Hamilton man is being sought in connection with the mysterious fatal shooting near here Sunday of Allen Noe, 27, of Mason.

Noe, married and the father of three, was wounded fatally, as he and a friend, Thomas Allen, 33, of South Lebanon, sat talking in an automobile on a county road near here.

Several hours later, Sheriff Richard Satterthwaite filed a murder charge against James Chester Evans, 25, of Hamilton. He said Allen identified a picture of Evans as the man who did the shooting.

The only information about the shooting came from Allen. He said he and Noe were talking when the man drove up alongside them and fired a shot after saying, "I've been looking for you for a long time. Now I've found you."

Locust Grove Pastor To Go to Plain City

The Rev. Frederick H. McKnight, who has been pastor of the Locust Grove Baptist Church for the past four and a half years, has accepted the pastorate of the Big Darby Baptist Church near Plain City, O.

He will preach his farewell sermon at the Locust Grove Church Sunday. He and his family will move the following week.

FILM FOR KIWANIS

A film about the manufacture of guns will be shown to Kiwanians when club members meet Thursday noon at the Memorial Building. Randall Bieber is program chairman.

The club also will elect a vice president to succeed John Callahan who moved to Columbus, and a director.

Stewardship Is Discussed At Methodist WSCS Meeting

"How Total is My Stewardship?" of people serving in those places as examples of complete stewardship.

The devotional leader, Mrs. Willis Hole, called attention to the worship center, which denoted stewardship, and asked the members to give of their time and talents as part of their stewardship.

Mrs. Herbert Lora read scripture from Matthew on the parable of talents. Mrs. Hole read "The Stewardship of Time."

The group sang two songs, led by Mrs. William Snowball.

Mrs. Homer Taylor conducted the business session. Mrs. Kenneth Bowser, who opened the meeting with piano selections also entertained with a group of negro spirituals with accompaniment on the autoharp.

Miss Martha Jane Frary was leader of the prayer group which met in the chapel preceding the meeting.

Refreshments were served from a lace covered buffet table centered with a basket arrangement of daffodils and lavender stock.

Members of the Jane Crooks Group were hostesses, and members of the Evelyn Weaver Group dispensed hospitality.

The East Fairfield WSCS will be invited to the April 6 meeting at 7:30 p.m. in the church here. Margery Mayer Group members will serve on the hospitality committee, and members of the Martha Graf Group will be hostesses.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I told my husband last night the next time he comes through the front door with two or three extra people for dinner (surprise, of course) I am going out the back door.

I'd never actually do it but how can I get him to give me at least an hour's notice?

I'm a fairly good cook but I'm no magician. Men just don't understand that extra people mean extra preparations. More than once the kids have had to eat peanut butter and jelly sandwiches and the guests got the chops. Please tell me what to do about this before I blow my top. —CAUGHT SHORT.

Dear Caught: Tell your husband that either he brings home (with the guests) some extra steaks or he'll have to settle for whatever this is.

Maybe after a few attempts at cutting lamb chops in half and dividing eight spears of asparagus six ways, he'll learn that you mean business.

For obvious reasons I'm avoiding the suggestion that you keep frozen meat on hand for "emergencies."

Wised-Up Teener

Dear Ann: Please print this letter for teen-age girls who are having trouble with their mothers. I'm 14 and have solved one of life's biggest problems.

Mom and I were forever arguing. No matter what she said I had a smart comeback. We never agreed on anything.

Then a girl moved to our block from another city. We got along swell from the start. She invited me to her house for the night and that's when my eyes were opened.

This girl and her mother had the loveliest relationship I ever saw. They were polite and considerate to each other — not like relatives but friends. I couldn't help but tell her I thought it was wonderful that she talked so nicely to her mother.

She said, "Why shouldn't I? My mother has done more for me than anyone in this world."

I decided then and there I was going to turn over a new leaf. At first Mom was shocked. She thought I was sick. I said "please" and "thank you" and offered to do extra things in the house. Within two days everything changed. Mom gave me more adult privileges because she said I was acting more mature.

Teen-agers should realize that their parents don't enjoy bickering and arguing any more than the kids. If the teens would make a decent effort to improve their relationship, the parents would meet them at least half way. —LEARNED LADY.

Dear Learned: Cheers! At last — a voice from the ranks—and coming from you it has real meaning! Thanks for writing.

Prying Eyes

Dear Ann: A certain attractive woman in our community lost her husband several weeks ago. She had lots of callers at first but now just a few people drop by.

The minister called on her three times the first week, which everyone thought was overdoing it. By chance I noticed his car in front of her home again on Monday afternoon of last week.

I'm not saying anything is wrong but I do feel it would cut down on the gossip in this town if the minister would take his wife along. Do you agree? —JUST A NEIGHBOR.

Dear Just: I'm all for cutting down on gossip and I suggest you start with yourself.

It's part of a clergyman's job to give spiritual strength to those who have lost loved ones. Why don't you use that wonderful eyesight of yours to crochet a tablecloth?

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

MAN DIES OF INJURIES

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP) — An unidentified man who had suffered multiple head injuries died here Sunday several hours after he had been found lying in the street.

Dr. Garret J. Boone, Butler

County coroner said the man was about 35 years old and that the head injuries caused his death. He said the man had no identification papers and the only clue to his identity was an overcoat bearing the label of a Dayton clothing store.

The Doctor Says

By HAROLD THOMAS HYMAN, M.D.

Hair on Women's Faces Is Embarrassing

Ever since I invited postal requests of topics for discussion, I've been collecting quite a stack in the file reserved for skin conditions.

The appearance of hair on the female face (hirsutism) is a cause for great embarrassment.

As a result, many women subject themselves to painful and, at times, dangerous measures.

To begin with, you must understand that this is a manifestation of a disturbance in the balance of circulating sex hormones.

When the proportion of the male factor exceeds that of the female factor there may be a male type of hair growth in mustache and beard areas.

This disproportion may result in hirsutism in young girls who also may be afflicted with acne pimples. It may accompany a change of life, and it is quite usual in older women.

HIRSUTISM ALSO may be an early sign of certain tumors of the ductless glands. And it may be caused by overdose of male sex hormone (usually given to control certain types of bleeding) or by effective doses of pituitary-like preparations used in the arthritis.

Because of the important implications of hirsutism, the afflicted woman must place herself in the hands of a qualified physician before undertaking any form of corrective treatment.

If no correctable underlying cause is discovered, she may have individual stubbles removed by electrolysis, preferably by a qualified skin specialist. Or she may resort to shaving with an electric razor if the growth is more profuse.

Contrary to general belief, shaving does not stimulate hair growth. Shaving is preferable to X-ray exposures and the use of chemical depilatories, each of which is almost certain to cause difficulties in the long run.

Internal treatments with glandular products, given by mouth or injection, are ill-advised since they are bound to result in far more undesirable side effects.

WRINKLES ARE another cause of embarrassment to the fastidious female.

They result from loss of tissue in the deep layer of the skin.

Hence they cannot be prevented or smoothed out by massage or any form of constricting contraption. Neither will they be affected to the slightest degree by any local application whether in the form of a "skin tonic," a scented cream or any of the widely publicized cosmetic preparations that boast of a content of hormones and/or royal jelly.

The professional woman whose appearance is vital to her career may be greatly improved by skillful plastic surgery. Others are best advised to save money, that might otherwise be wasted.

Dear Reader: Dr. Hyman appreciates your comments and questions but regrets that the heavy volume of his mail doesn't permit him to answer each individual letter or post card. However, he will comment in columns like the above upon matters of general or unusual interest.

CHIROPRACTORS ELECT

CLEVELAND (AP) — Dr. Roy V. Skogsbergh of Cincinnati was named president of the Ohio Chiropractic Physicians Assn. at its meeting here over the weekend. Other officers elected were Dr. Clark McClain of Painesville, first vice president; Dr. Donald Ray of Cincinnati, secretary, and Dr. Robert Crichton, Akron, treasurer.

NOT AGAIN—Gov. G. Mennen Williams says he will not seek a seventh term as Michigan's chief executive. His 12-year tenure ends Dec. 31. Williams will devote himself to a Democratic victory in November and hope for a cabinet or ambassador's post if his vice presidential nomination bid doesn't get off the ground.

Ohio Traffic Mishaps Kill 9

Weather Responsible For Several Deaths

By The Associated Press
Traffic
Fires
Total

Ohio's accidental death toll for the weekend just past was at least 14, according to reports received by The Associated Press. Of them, 9 were in traffic, 5 from miscellaneous causes.

Two double-fatal mishaps marred the 54-hour period from 6 p. m. Friday to midnight Sunday. In one a pair of Ohio State University students who had been out on a date were asphyxiated in a parked car in a garage in Columbus. The other came when two pedestrians trying to cross Ohio 3 north-east of Columbus were hit by a car.

Wintry weather definitely was directly responsible for two miscellaneous deaths, and skids, probably on slippery highways, caused at least three of the traffic fatalities. A tractor a Ross County youth was trying to get out of a snowdrift overturned on him and killed him, while a Perry County highway worker died when he slipped under the rear wheels of a county sand truck being maneuvered to pull a snow plow out of a snowdrift.

The fatalities:

Friday Night
George Charney, Canton, struck by a train there as he walked home from work.

Saturday

David W. Gallagher, 24, Columbus, and Miss Barbara M. Moore, 20, North Canton, asphyxiated by carbon monoxide fumes as they sat in a car—its motor running—parked in the garage at Gallagher's home.

Harold Leroy Secest, 16, when a tractor he was attempting to remove from a snowdrift skidded into a ditch and overturned on him near his western Ross County home.

Mrs. Mary C. Jawback, 59, Medway, when her car skidded off Medway Road and struck a tree just south of the Clark County line in Greene County.

Frank Huey, 6, Columbus, and Paul Gallagher, 32, Westerville, struck and killed by a car as they crossed Ohio 3 just north of Columbus.

Paul Smith, 4-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harley Smith Jr., Columbus, when his father's car collided with another auto at the intersection of Ohio 104 and old Ohio 124 five miles south of Waverly.

Alice Louise Fisher, 22, Chardon, when the car in which she was riding collided with another auto at the intersection of Ohio 86 and Brakeman Road about three miles north of the Geauga County line in Lake County.

Sunday
Johnny Couch, 22, Phoneton, when his car skidded on Ohio 201 and struck an empty oil tank truck north of Dayton.

Mrs. Willie Belle Neason, 41, Columbus, struck by a car as she crossed a street there.

Vernon L. Risner, 22, Rt. 2, Carney, when his car skidded into a tree off U.S. 23 two miles north of Carey (Wyandot County).

Mrs. Maggie O'Neill, 38, Cleveland, asphyxiated by gas fumes from a faulty vented space heater in her apartment.

Clyde Wolfe, 60, New Lexington.

Kennedy, Nixon Backers Beat Drums

Political Leaders Seek to Elicit Big Vote in New Hampshire

By RELMAN MORIN
CONCORD, N.H. (AP) — Political leaders of both major parties in New Hampshire intensified the drive today to get out whopping votes for Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, the two principal figures in Tuesday's presidential primary election.

The New Hampshire battle is the first of 16 state primaries in the nation.

Kennedy, campaigning hard in an 11th hour push, drew substantial crowds everywhere.

The turnout and the response of his audiences indicated he has succeeded in stirring up enthusiasm among Democratic voters.

Nixon has not come into New Hampshire. Republican chieftains, led by Gov. Wesley Powell, are carrying the brunt of his campaign. They are concentrating on personal appeals, via telephone, to thousands of registered Republicans and independents. Paid radio statements urging votes for Nixon bombard New Hampshire listeners almost around the clock.

Since state law does not permit Republicans to vote for Democrats in the primary, and vice versa, the election does not provide a direct test of strength between Kennedy and Nixon.

However, as the nation's first primary, the New Hampshire election has a potentially powerful impact on the other state primaries and on the nominating conventions of both parties.

It could start a band wagon, and it could put the brakes on the drive for either candidate.

This is the first ballot-box barometer — as distinct from polls and samplings — of the popularity of Nixon and Kennedy, who may very well be the two contenders for the presidency next November.

Hence, for the past two days Kennedy has been telling New Hampshire voters that this state launched Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower on the road to the White House in 1952 and helped Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) to become the Democratic vice-presidential nominee in 1956.

What would constitute a victory for Nixon or Kennedy?

The answer may lie in some simple figures, in the so-called "beauty contest" section of the ballot where voters indicate a direct preference for the presidency.

Republicans have the advantage on Tuesday of the New Hampshire town meetings, in which citizens gather to vote on town problems. Most of the New Hampshire towns, unlike the cities, are Republican. GOP leaders expect voters to vote in the presidential primary when they have finished voting on town business.

ton, working on a Perry County highway crew, when he fell under the rear wheels of a sand-loaded truck being maneuvered into position to pull a snow plow out of a snow drift, at Ohio 204 and a county road near Thornville.

Fires Cause Heavy Youngstown Losses

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — One of two fires which broke out within 5 hours destroyed 6,000 pounds of chocolate and a large stockpile of candy recently made for the upcoming Easter business.

Candy boxes at the Geordan Candy Manufacturing Co. still were smoldering this morning.

The blaze started late Sunday night, and firemen were unable to determine the cause.

Firemen estimated overall damage at $25,000 to $30,000.

A fire at the Ritz Bar on the East Side early today caused an estimated $30,000 damage, firemen said.

The blaze was blamed on a cigarette which ignited a booth. Flames shot up to the third-floor level.

Lisbon Social

By ESTHER DETEMPLE

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Freeman of Sherman St. will observe their 35th wedding anniversary Tuesday.

Clyde Freeman and the former Gertrude Souders of Mill Creek, Pa., were married March 8, 1905, at Mill Creek. Their entire married life has been spent in the vicinity of Lisbon.

Mr. Freeman is a retired school teacher, carpenter and farmer, having retired six years ago from a farm west of Lisbon.

They have three daughters, Mrs. George Kelch, Mrs. Harry Bowman and Miss Frances, all of Lisbon; seven grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. George Kelch and their son Mr. and Mrs. Roger Kelch also will observe wedding anniversaries on the Freeman anniversary date.

For the convenience of guests, a family dinner celebrating the anniversary will be held March 20 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Kelch of N. Market St. Ext.

Guests are expected from Columbus, Warren, Alliance, West Point and Lisbon.

MISS MADLYNN MUSE, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Muse of Grandview St. was capped Friday night at the commencement exercises of the Salem School of Practical Nursing held in the Church of Our Saviour in Salem.

Seven young women graduated and 12 are in Miss Muse's class scheduled to graduate in November, 1960.

KAYE RODI and Rebecca Walters were recently initiated into Delta Delta Delta and Alpha Xi Delta national sororities at Mount Union College.

Miss Rodi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Kennedy of N. Market St., is a freshman at Mount. Also a freshman, Miss Walters is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wilson of Thomas Rd.

Their initiation on Feb. 21, along with 69 other Mount coeds, climaxed a 15-week period of training as pledges.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Libby of Canton spent the weekend with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Libby of W. Lincoln Way and Mr. and Mrs. Foster Shattuck of E. Pine St.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Everett and children of Salem spent Sunday with Mr. Everett's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Everett of W. Washington St.

Warren Rips Salem Hopes For Columbus Trip 54-52

Quakers Off In Rebounding

Panthers' Brugler Locals' Nemesis

By DICK BRAUTIGAM

Salem's long awaited return trip to Columbus via Youngstown and Kent was turned back just two games from home Saturday night by a Warren Harding cage squad which up ended the Quakers 54-32 in the Class AA Sectional finals at Youngstown South Field House.

John Brugler, a husky 6-3 senior, is the man largely responsible for bringing an abrupt halt to Salem High's 1959-60 basketball season. He connected on three long push shots in the final two minutes and 20 seconds to enable the Panthers to pull off the upset.

It was Brugler who broke a 50-50 tie on a long desperation shot which swished the net with only 10 seconds remaining.

THE CONTEST was close throughout the first half. Warren was on top 12-11 at the quarter, but Salem moved ahead 22-22 by intermission.

At the beginning of the third quarter Salem threatened to break the game wide open. The Quakers racked up 13 straight points before the period was three minutes old. By the 5:06 mark in the third quarter, the Quakers had a 14 point lead, 36-22.

Salem's big spurt was highlighted by a hard back court press which rattled the Panthers, Dan Krichbaum, Dave Hunter and Jim Lehwald were making it so tough for Warren to move the ball that the Panthers weren't able to get with in shooting range of the Salem basket.

KRICHAUM was leading a fast break which was almost unstoppable. He tallied four goals in the first three minutes and 20 seconds of the second half.

But, suddenly the complexion of the game reversed. The Quakers slacked up on their press and began slowing down their attack.

By the end of the third quarter, Warren had closed the gap to 41-36. Salem remained in the lead until a goal by Brugler put the Panthers on top 46-45 with two minutes and 20 seconds remaining in the game.

Dave Hunter drove down the middle and looped a one-hander which resulted in a three point play as he was fouled on the attempt. Brugler and Davidson exchanged buckets which kept the Quakers on top 50-48.

RON BARRETT of Warren tied it up at 50-50 with just a minute and 10 seconds showing on the clock. As the Quakers worked the ball near mid court, big Jack Currington cut in front of Jim Solmen to intercept a bounce pass. Currington drove in by himself for a layup which gave Warren the lead, 52-50 with 26 seconds to go.

Dave Hunter knotted the score again with only 12 seconds remaining when he connected on a one-hander from out front.

The Panthers then left it up to Brugler who came through with his game-winning push shot.

With 10 seconds remaining Salem moved the ball down the floor and Hunter took a long shot which bounced off the rim. An official ruled that Salem had not taken the ball out of bounds after Brugler's last goal so Warren got the ball out under Salem's basket.

Only four seconds showed on the clock when Warren threw the ball in.

THE LOSS was a bitter pill for the Quakers who appeared ready to go a long way in the tournament. One night earlier they had made their tourney debut with a highly impressive 105-64 win over Champion.

Several factors led to Salem's downfall Saturday night, but two were most obvious: a lack of rebounding and poor foul shooting.

The rebounding problem haunted the Quakers throughout the season. The men counted upon most to get the ball off the boards. Davidson, Theiss, Lehwald and Solmen, combined accounted for only 16 rebounds last night. Davidson alone had gotten 19 the night before against Champion.

From the foul line Salem hit only eight of 18 charity tosses. Warren was 14 for 18 from the foul line. The Quakers had a 22 to 20 edge in field goals.

Warren hit 20 of 48 attempts for a 41.7 average. Salem was 22 for 53 for 41.5 per cent.

THE GAME STARTED slipping away from the Quakers when they let up on their press midway through the third quarter. When the game got close the Quakers went into a slow deliberate offense which seemed to play into the hands of the Panthers.

Salem had the finesse, the plays and the patterns, but Warren had rebounding and a man who got hot at the right time.

The Panthers are physically rugged and tough defensively. Paul Warfield is one of the best defensive men Salem ran up against all season. However, the Panthers are not sharp ball handlers, and their shooting is erratic. There was no question about their spirit and courage Saturday night.

Warren will take a record of 10 wins and 11 losses into District

Yugovich Was Bright Spot for Youngstown U.

YOUNGSTOWN - Although Youngstown University compiled its worst record in four years, finishing with an 11-14 record including defeats in nine of the last 11 games, Coach Dom Rosselli did have a bright spot on the squad.

That bright spot is captain Mick, Yugovich who completed four years as a first team member. Yugovich, although not setting any records this season, pushed himself into the second spot for all-time scoring by collecting 529 points this year to up his four year total to 1917. Number one man in point production is Tony Knott who totaled 2,218 in four years.

Yugovich paced the Penguins in just about every individual department. He tallied 234 field goals in 549 attempts and made good on 61 of 107 free throws to top both departments. His four year totals are broken down into 791 field goals and 335 free throws.

NCAA Tourney Opens Tonight

National Invitation Field Is Complete

By The Associated Press

The NCAA basketball tournament gets under way on two fronts tonight even before the entire 25-team field is filled.

At Chicago, DePaul (15-6) meets the Air Force Academy (12-9) in the Midwest regionals, while at Provo, Utah, Southern California (19-10) goes against Utah (24-2) in the West regionals.

While they are tangling, the final two spots in the tournament will be up for grabs. Santa Clara (20-8) and Loyola of Los Angeles (19-7) finished in a tie for the West Coast Athletic Conference championship and meet in a playoff in San Francisco.

Kansas (16-7) needs only to beat weak Nebraska to tie Kansas State for the Big Eight title. The Jayhawks win, a poll of faculty representatives will decide whether there will be a playoff of the flip of a coin to determine the team that enters the tournament.

Here is the remainder of the first round pairings:
East regionals:
Tuesday at New York-Princeton vs. Duke, NYU vs. Connecticut and West Virginia vs. Navy.

Midwest Regionals:
Tuesday at Lexington, Ky. - Ohio U. vs. Notre Dame and Western Kentucky vs. Miami, Fla.
Tuesday at San Francisco-California vs. Idaho State.

Wednesday at Corvallis, Ore. - New Mexico State vs. Oregon.
The second round will be played at Charlotte, N.C.; Louisville; Manhattan, Kan., and Seattle Friday and Saturday with the semifinals and finals scheduled for San Francisco March 18-19.

The 12-team field for the National Invitation Tournament in Madison Square Garden, New York, was completed Sunday with the addition of Bradley (24-2) and Utah State (22-4). Bradley was runner-up in the Missouri Valley Conference and Utah State finished second in the Skyline conference.

The tournament starts Thursday with Villanova and Detroit clashing in the opener of the doubleheader, followed by Providence and Memphis State.

The National Intercollegiate tournament (NAIA) begins in Kansas City tonight with a 32-team field of top small college teams. Tennessee A&I, winner the past three years, qualified by downing Winston-Salem Teachers, 81-74, Saturday, and will be favored.

The NCAA small college division quarterfinalists move on to Evansville, Ind., Wednesday to settle their championship. The pairings are St. Michael's, Vt., vs. Kentucky Wesleyan, American University vs. Evansville College, Wheaton vs. Chapman and Cornell of Iowa vs. Kirkville. Evansville is the defending champion.

Banks 4th Again In Batting Order

MESA, Ariz. (AP) - Ernie Banks, the Chicago Cubs' slugging shortstop and National League's most valuable player, is going to bat fourth again this year.

There had been some conjecture that Banks might be moved up to the third slot in order to get more at bats but Manager Charlie Grimm says no.

"Ernie will get more chances to drive in runs in the No. 4 spot with our club," said Grimm. "I'm not even thinking of moving him up."

Banks led the majors with 143 runs batted in last season and hit 45 homers. He finished second in homers when Eddie Mathews of Milwaukee hit No. 46 in the playoffs against Los Angeles.

Findlay Bowler Leads In Tourney

Gladys Winkle of Findlay last weekend moved into the top spot in the all-events of the Inter City Women's Bowling Association tournament being held at the Timberlans with a grand total of 1,573 pins.

The third week leader replaced Mary Fravel of Wooster who takes over second place with 1,560. Mary Kline of Salem, onetime leader in the all pins event, is now in fifth place with 1,540.

Hilda Greenwalt of Alliance and Marilyn Enkemann of Wooster are in third and fourth places, with 1,538 and 1,534 pins, respectively.

In the Singles Handicap, Edith Gow of Salem slid to third place with 650 pins behind Marilyn Kuntz, man of Alliance who racked up 658 Sunday for first place. Second place is held by Esther Smith of Loudenville with 631.

The J. and E. Record Shop of Columbiana retained its first place hold in the team standings with 2,997 pins. Town Tavern and Hughes Electric, both of Washington, were in second and third with 2,969 and 2,938 pins respectively.

New leaders in the Doubles Handicap are Nettie Rouch and Maxine Barr of Wooster with 1,245 pins. They replaced Audrey Raptis and Emily Handgraf of Avon Lake who are in second with 1,221 pins.

Findlay-Waterford, Columbiana County Class A champion, bowed out of tournament play after taking a 60-33 pasting from powerful Akron St. Mary's on Saturday in the Sectional Finals at Canton.

The Rebels were out of the game early. St. Mary's bowled on top 17-8 in the first quarter. It stretched the margin to 34-13 at halftime and 52-19 after three periods.

Jim Firth was Akron's big scorer with 23 points. Clarence Kanakal had eight to pace the losers.

Fairfield Coach Bing Newton substituted freely after St. Mary's put the score out of reach. Eight of the Rebels broke into the scoring column.

Fairfield-Waterford closed its season with a 6-15 record.

Salem Team 3rd In Bowling Tourney

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) - The Pepsi-Cola team of Cincinnati fired the highest actual pin total thus far Sunday in the annual Ohio Women's Bowling Tournament.

The Pepsi had a 2,632 actual total but failed even to get into the top 10 in the handicap team event.

Only two changes were made among the five leaders in the various divisions during the week.

Gray Motor Sales of Salem took third place in the team division with a 3,018 score on 2,559 actual pins and a 459 pin handicap.

Viola Carroll and Betty Griesmeyer of Cincinnati moved into fifth in the doubles with a 1,262 total.

Greenford Bows To Lowellville

Rockets Advance To District Tourney

Greenford fell victim to the Lowellville cagers for the fourth time this season, and the 60-42 defeat on Saturday at Warren knocked the Bobcats out of the Class A tournament.

Lowellville advanced to the District Tournament at Canton Field House. The Rockets drew Akron St. Mary's (15-3) for their opponent at 8:30 p.m. on Wednesday.

Greenford trailed throughout the game Saturday. Coach Jerry Sues' quintet made a game of it though. Early in the fourth quarter the Bobcats rallied to close the gap to eight points, 50-42.

The Powerful Rockets came back to score the last 10 points in the tilt to win going away. Greenford was down by 16 points as the final quarter got underway.

Phil Genova's 17 points were high for Lowellville. Freshman Bill Beery popped in 11 for Greenford. The Bobcats outscored Lowellville 22-8 from the foul line.

Swimming, Wrestling Titles Won by McKinley, Garfield

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Canton McKinley and Garfield Heights are the new state high school swimming and wrestling champions, respectively.

Canton's swimmers splashed to their fifth straight crown, and their 12th in 33 years, by piling up a new team high of 60 points in Saturday's championship finale here. Lakewood was second with 23 points and Upper Arlington third with 26.

At the same time, Garfield Heights replaced Bridgeport as wrestling champion by gathering 57 points, eight more than runner-up Maple Heights. Bridgeport finished third in a tie with Cleveland John Marshall, at 32 points.

Canton's Marty Mull broke two state high school swimming records Saturday, each of which he himself set the day before in the preliminaries.

Mull set the pace in the 100-yard freestyle, going the distance in 50.7 seconds to break his own record of 50.9. He also was victorious in the 200-yard individual medley, his 2:09.3 timing breaking his own mark of 2:10.4.

A third meet record also was broken—by Bill Edwards of Lakewood. His 1:07.8 in the 100-yard breaststroke bettered his own mark of 1:08 set in the preliminaries. Behind the top three finishers in the swimming and diving championships were Kent State with 20 points, Warren with 19, Cleveland Heights 18½, Lima 18, Sandusky 14, Cincinnati Walnut Hills 13, Cincinnati Withrow 9, Cincinnati Woodward 8½, Cleveland Shaw 5, Bexley, Fremont Ross and Cincinnati Hughes 4, Berea, Cuyahoga Falls and Massillon 3, and Euclid and Shaker Heights 2.

Behind the top three in the wrestling championships were Toledo Rogers and Martins Ferry with 24 points, Whitehall with 23, Lakewood 20, Euclid 18, Eastlake North 15, Canton McKinley and Parma 14, Mayfield Heights and Shaker Heights 13, Cleveland West 12, Worthington 11, Cleveland Brush 10, Lisbon and Canton North 9, Toledo Waite and Bedford 8, Dayton Fairmont and Clyde 7, Cleveland Collinwood and Oberlin 6, Toledo Macomber, Macedonia, Massillon and Crestwood 3, Mentor, Kent State, Louisville, Ravenna, Cleveland St. Joseph, Toledo St. Francis and Upper Arlington 2, and Fostoria, Columbus, Linden, Cuyahoga Falls, Cleveland Heights, Sandusky, Toledo Central Catholic and Warren 1.

Carl Hoppel and Chuck Timmons of Beaver Local High (Lisbon) both failed to gain the finals. Hoppel took down a third place while Timmons was defeated in an early match.

The defeat for Hoppel, a defending state champ, was only the second of his wrestling career. He is a sophomore, Timmons, a senior, lost out in the 103-pound division on a close 3-2 decision. This was the only match he lost during the season and the only points scored against him.

"Well, I figure this spring I'll put in 50 acres of corn, 50 acres of beans and two and a half acres of outdoor movies!"

Dischinger, Lucas Lead Big Ten Stars

CHICAGO (AP)—Two brilliant sophomores, champion Ohio State's Jerry Lucas and Purdue's Terry Dischinger, led the 1960 All-Big Ten basketball team named today by The Associated Press.

The honor team, selected in a poll of AP writers in the Big Ten area, also included Michigan State's Horace Walker, Indiana's Walt Bellamy and the lone repeater from last season, Minnesota's Ron Johnson.

There was no argument over the selection of Lucas, already named to The AP's 1960 All-America team, and Big Ten scoring leader Dischinger, a second team All-America choice.

Walker, on the third All-America team and the Big Ten's leading rebounder, and the huge (6-10½) Bellamy each missed only one first team ballot, while Johnson missed two.

This great quintet would be the answer to any cage coach's fondest dream, averaging 6-7 in height and more than 24 points in scoring each game.

There was a wide gap in the balloting between the first aggregation and a second all-star team composed of Michigan's John Timmer, Illinois' Governor Vaughn, Northwestern's Willie Jones, Ohio State's Larry Siegfried, and Michigan State's Lance Olson.

Johnson and Walker are the only seniors on the All-Big Ten team. Bellamy is a junior and Lucas and Dischinger have two more seasons to bewilder Big Ten foes.

Poland Eliminates Campbell Memorial

Poland, runner-up to Minerva in the Tri-County League this season, advanced to District play at Youngstown Field House by eliminating Campbell Memorial 76-66 in the Struthers Class AA Sectional Finals Saturday.

The Bulldogs drew Warren (10-11) for their opponent at 8 p.m. Friday at South Field House.

Poland was forced to come from behind in the second half to pull out its victory over Campbell. The Bulldogs trailed 37-29 at halftime. Led by Rick Hunneke, a slick shooting 6-3 senior, Poland stormed back to take a 51-45 lead after three quarters.

Hunneke wound up with 24 points to top all scorers. Al Kelly's 17 markers featured for the losers.

Poland carries a 17-4 record into the District tournament while Campbell bowed out at 6-15.

Campbell Memorial—66
Thompson 4-15; Putko 1-24; Kelly 8-5-17; Kish 5-4-14; Ellerbe 1-0-2; Gelwick 3-3-9; Wityshun 2-1-5; Zbell 0-0-0

Moyer Will Meet Griffith Friday

By The Associated Press
Denny Moyer, the Portland, Ore. youngster who lost his chance to become the welterweight champion last summer, will try to move closer to a return go with titleholder Don Jordan Friday night. Moyer, only 20, faces Emile Griffith of New York in a 10-rounder in Madison Square Garden.

Moyer dropped a decision to Jordan July 10. Since then he's won four straight including knock-out victories over Paddy Demarco, Tony Demarco and Ted Lowry. Griffith, 22, turned in a neat garden performance last month when he whipped Mexico's Gaspar Ortega.

Both Moyer and Griffith have lost only one professional fight. Griffith's only setback was to Randy Sandy. The bout will be nationally televised and broadcast via NBC starting at 10 p.m., EST.

Children's Theater to Give Play At Columbiana Tonight

COLUMBIANA — A troupe of players from the Pittsburgh Children's Theatre will visit here tonight to present an adventure saga, "Captain Kidd Returns," at 7 p.m. in the High School Auditorium.

Tonight's visit by the Pittsburgh company is the second sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Organization.

Columbiana Fire Department will convene at 7:30 tonight in town hall. Chief R. Don Hisey expects action to be taken on adding two new members to the department roster.

George Seederly and Fred Detwiler will present a movie, "To Serve the Living," as the program at tonight's meeting of the Rotary Club at Valley Golf Club dining room.

SPECIAL GIRL SCOUT and Brownie events are scheduled this week in observance of Girl Scout Week.

Annual party for Brownies will be held at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday at Dixon school. Mrs. Donna Manley is chairman for the festivity. The Girl Scout party is set for 7:30 p.m. Thursday, also at Dixon, with Mrs. Ruth Holloway in charge.

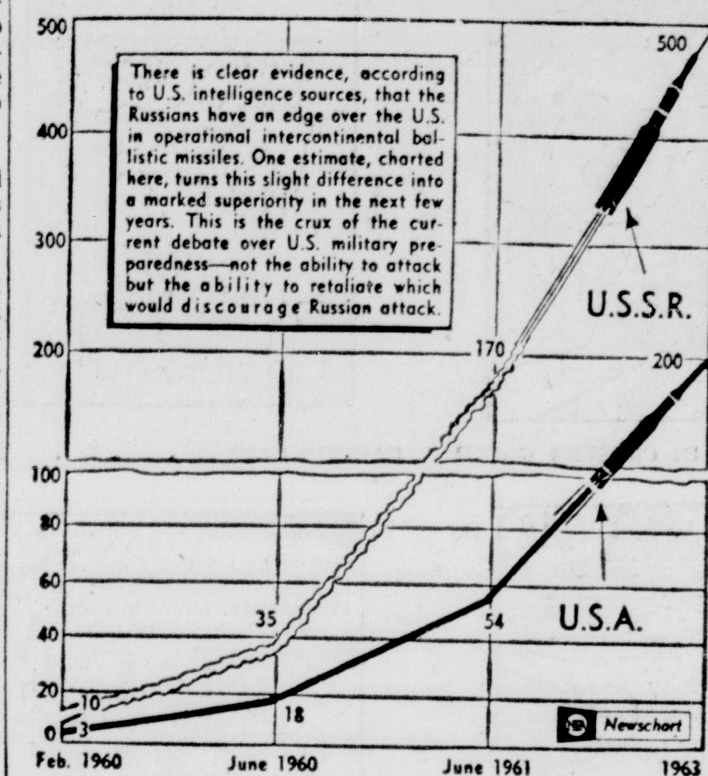

Four trophies will be awarded in jitterbug and waltz contests at a dancing class social party Friday at the Columbiana High School gymnasium. Parents of children in the class, sponsored by the Columbiana Bantam League, are invited to attend the event, scheduled to start at 7 p.m. with a grand march. Entertainment and refreshments also are on the program.

NEWCOMERS CLUB members will convene at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the American Legion home on N. Pearl St. Parlor games will be the entertainment.

Mrs. George Fisher will discuss "The Fundamentals of Flower Arranging" at the Village Garden Club meeting Tuesday at the home of Mrs. James Garstick. Mrs. Robert Paul will be associate hostess.

Seaweed in the Sargasso Sea has adapted itself to the open sea and does not come from the coastal regions.

Some Wives Are Good Managers

It's Your Pocketbook

By FAYE HENLE

Do you trust your wife in financial matters?

I've recently discovered an interesting correlation between both income and pride that provides a clue to answering this question.

In the low to moderate income family the husband usually turns his pay check over to his wife. She understands the simple fact that until raises come 'round again, she will have just so many dollars to spend for food, clothing and shelter.

She hopes there will be no unforeseen emergencies that their savings cannot cover. The mileage she gets out of those dollars depends upon how well she learns to manage. Frequently, if she is able, she will go to work to increase her family's spending or savings potential.

WHEN THIS FAMILY decides to move, to increase its insurance or in some other way alter its pattern of saving or spending, a family council is called with the wife usually sharing in the decision-making.

Among the wealthy, the wife, especially if she has money of her own, is well versed in matters financial. She is aware of tax bites and seeks to circumvent them. She may, or may not, take an active interest in her husband's business, but there is a pretty good chance that she is taking an active interest in the securities markets and with increasing frequency in real estate.

If she hasn't a head for figures, you can bet she has a head for names that at the other end of her phone is a source to tell her how much she'll make on a given investment.

It is in the lower level of the middle income strata that there is trouble. Here we've got Joe well on his way up the economic ladder but he can't remember his mother skipping pennies to buy his books. This man's pride won't allow his Jane's pretty head to be bothered by something as prosaic as money.

MANY A WIFE in this predicament, if she has any sense at all, should emerge from her dreamland and discover just how income and outgo of the family's funds are related. She should do this with an eye to the future. Instead of throwing up her hands in horror, she should face up to her husband squarely and ask:

How do our income and spending match?
What are we doing to make our savings grow?
Do we have more debate than we should?

What kind of insurance do we have? What does it cover? Is it adequate for our present needs? Could we do with more or with less insurance?

How are we planning to finance college for the kids?

How much money can we depend upon when you retire?

When a wife is able to answer these questions, the chances are that she will have relieved her husband of a great burden and found a whole new field of interest to pursue.

It takes work to become the wife that can be trusted in matters financial. Yet, day after day, my attention is called to the material that is available for just this woman.

A GREAT DEAL of this material is free, prepared by such groups as the Institute of Life Insurance, the American Bankers Association, the Association of

Major Hoople Creator Dies of Heart Attack

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Cartoonist Gene Ahern, creator of Major Hoople and other characters of "Our Boarding House," is dead of a heart attack at 64.

Chicago-born Ahern, who died Sunday drew the cartoon from the early 1920s until 1936. He then switched to another cartoon character, Judge Puffie, for King Features Syndicate Inc.

Survivors include the widow, Jane. Ahern had lived in California for 36 years.

BARCUS ON PROGRAM

A graduate seminar, a new experiment at Houghton College, Houghton, N.Y., will be held there Saturday. Former Houghton graduates now attending graduate schools will head the individual sessions. James Barcus of Salem, who attends the University of Kentucky, will head the English session.

HISTORIANS WON'T MEET

The Salem Historical Society has canceled its March meeting scheduled for Tuesday night.

The next meeting will be April 12 in GAR Hall.
